Pre-registration Starts This Week

by RAY DOHERTY

The pre-registration procedure for the Summer session and for September, 1949, has been completed.

Pre-registration will begin May 2 and end May 13.

Summer pre-registration will take place from May 2 to 6, and that for the Fall term, from May 9 to 13.

According to the Registrar it is imperative that all students who intend to return for either or both of these terms pre-register on the above dates. Program consideration and housing will be given only to those who pre-register.

Those who fail to pre-register run the risk of possible non-admission for the Summer or the Fall term.

If they are fortunate enough to be admitted, they will still be fined a $5 penalty fee, unless they pre-register.

$25 DEPOSIT

The major innovation of this year's pre-registration plan is the advance deposit of $25.00 which is a strict requirement for all students who intend to return next year. Emphasis is stressed on the point that this deposit must be made at the time of pre-registration.

According to the Registrar's

Ray LaBonte Wins Prize In Contest

Four students are a little richer this week because they submitted winning entries in the MICHAELMAN contest.

The winners were: Raymond LaBonte, first, and Don Slaven, Bernard Duprat and Orville Goodrow, all tied for second.

The contest was staged to find a novel way to say " keep off the grass." The winning ideas are being used by Superintendent of Buildings John Buchan who is having signs made up to protect the new shrubs and lawns which are being planted around the campus.

LaBonte's winning suggestion, which will be worth $15 to him, was: " Keep off, or my name will be mud".

Slaven, Duprat and Goodrow split the remaining $10 of prize money between them.

Slaven suggested: " Ouch, I'm hurt. Stay away".

Duprat was concise and to the point with: " DANGER, new blades".

Goodrow, on the other hand, was a little more involved. His idea, a thinly veiled plagiarism of an old epigram: " Spare today, lawn tomorrow".

Congratulations to Dick Wall on his engagement to Mary Ann Blair, also of Northampton, Mass. It's a June 27th wedding.

Bus Load of Students Goes To Hub For NFCCS Talks

by BUCK McMAHON

Over thirty-five Michaelmen left by bus yesterday to attend the Regional Congress of the National Federation of Catholic College Students being held in Boston this weekend.

Most of the group will stay at the Hotel Bradford while others will stay at homes of friends in Boston.

The group left in the best of spirits, for the "controversy" of the past few weeks concerning the speeches to be made has been intelligently settled.

At the NFCCS Forum the Monday before Easter recess, a situation which had been blown up to exaggerated proportions was clarified. The problem was discussed for close to three hours, with everyone present given the chance to speak his mind.

CONTROVERSY SETTLED

A group of interested students was concerned over what will be said in the speeches to be delivered by St. Michael's representatives at the Regional Congress in Boston, April 29, 30 and May 1. These men feared that perhaps something might be said that would prove detrimental to St. Michael's. They were concerned principally about anything said on the foreign policy of the U.S.

They sought to have the talks delivered to the student body and voted upon. If it was voted that the speeches were detrimental, they were to be altered accordingly, so as not to reflect upon our college. If the speeches could not be read to the students then the speakers should go to Boston as individuals and not as Michaelmen.

In answering the request, the speakers and NFCCS delegates explained that the speeches had not yet been written and probably wouldn't be completed before the vacation. In addition, they are designed to be purely factual addresses.

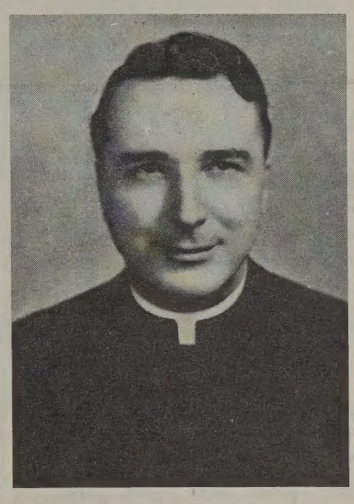
Many Courses To Change

Father Hyland



Prison Chaplain Speaks Here Sun.

A famous prison chaplain will be the guest speaker at the Communion Breakfast to be given Sunday, by the Mission Crusade.

Father Ambrose R. Hyland, chaplain of Clinton Prison in Dannemora, New York, will speak at the Breakfast which will be held at 9:30 at the 2 & 7 Inn.

Following a High Mass at eight o'clock which will be sung by Father Maurice Boucher, moderator of the Mission Crusade, busses will be available for those who wish to attend and hear Father Hyland.

Only 125 tickets are going on sale, and anyone wishing to attend the breakfast may purchase one of these for a dollar. Tickets will be on sale in the dining hall, Saturday, or may be obtained from Committee chairman, Bill Betzig or his assistants, Joseph Bernard, Dennis Scanlon, John Dursoi, or Jim McKown.

Aside from the breakfast, it will be a privilege to hear Father Hyland speak. The renowned prison Chaplain, known throughout the United States as the " Padre of the thieves," has been guest speaker for Holy Name Societies, Knights of Columbus, Foresters' meetings and Communion Breakfasts.

MAKING MOVIE

Father Hyland has just returned from Hollywood where he is helping make a movie about his work with the inmates of Clinton Prison. About the picture he says: " Regarding the picture, it will be made when we have convinced them of the proper message to be conveyed - that is, it will have to be a picture that is not a typical gangster vehicle, complete with riots and breaks. We want something done that will be beneficial rather than detrimental to the cause. The script has been done three times and I am sure that we will evolve a successful script in the near future at which time production will commence."

Father Hyland's great problem is what to do about the individual who has become a criminal. This part of the crime problem has not yet caught hold of the public's helping interest. This led to his establishment of the Good Thief Foundation in connection with the Church of the Good Thief, which the inmates constructed themselves.

Purpose of the Church, in addition to that of providing the men with a suitable place of

Minor Programs Out BS Courses Changed

Michaelmen, in years to come, will no longer have to bother with the mental gymnastics necessary to figure out a "minor sequence."

In addition, future Science students will also find that their language requirements have been changed considerably.

These are only two of the many major policy changes revealed in the new catalogue which was released by the registrar's office this week.

Only the present Freshman Class is to be affected by the changes. Sophomores and Juniors will continue to operate under the programs contained in last year's catalogue, dated '48-'49.

Under the new program, outlined in detail on pages 37-39 of the catalogue, freshmen who are taking a BS Chem. or BS Biology course will have their choice of dropping their languages after this year and taking History or Education in their Junior and Senior years, or else these students can complete their language course instead of taking the Education or the History course.

NO MORE MINORS

All freshmen will be affected by the ruling ending the minor sequences. The present Sophomore and Junior classes will still continue with the minors. Under the present system students, over their Junior and Senior years, must take a total of 12 credits in a field closely allied to their major field.

It has been decided to do away with the minor programs altogether and replace them with electives. According to Academic Dean, Father Dupont, the Administration wishes these electives to be closely allied to the major field. However, the Administration feels this can be accomplished by relying on the discretion of the Student Advisers. Advisers will not let the students accumulate a hodge-podge of unrelated course credits.

The new policy for modern language requirements makes the language one item in a three way choice. B.S. students will now be allowed to choose 12 credits in Modern Language or 12 credits in History or 12 credits in Education. These courses will be taken during the Junior and Senior years.

Three reasons were given for the change.

1. Modern Language is necessary for graduate work in the Sciences but not for undergraduate work.

2. Rapid changes in current day science have made necessary requirements so heavy that there is no room for electives after the core curriculum is completed.

3. The new program will permit science students to prepare for teaching without having to take an extra year of schooling.

The new catalogue also contained major policy changes in the pre-dental, pre-medical and

SMC-Amherst Debate Federal Aid To Schools

Michaelmen had their first opportunity to see their debating team in action last night (Friday) when the varsity debaters dueled Amherst College in the Science Hall.

The debate was scheduled for eight p.m.

The topic, Federal aid to education, was upheld by the affirmative Lord Jeffs. For St. Michael's, the negative team, consisted of Bernard T. Duffy and Tim Evatt, with Ray Deforge alternate.

The debate was open to all students.

There comes a time when even the less serious college student should put away the ball bat and comic books in favor of a few well chosen text books.

College in the spring, like so many other things, should be mixed with a dose of sulphur and molasses. Balmy days are plentiful and the blood runs thick and lazy-like. The sight of green foliage turns the bookworm into an outdoorman. The well thumbed texts begin to suffer from dust and neglect.

The all-round Joe College, the "cram for quizz" variety, has already seen the first robin and has been busy chasing birds of another specie ever since.

The crack of a bat has even more allure. MICHAELMEN, don't take that outside pitch. If you want to wait 'em out, mix 'em up a little. A little play and a little more work than usual will put you on next year's varsity.

Final exams have been a menace since before Joe DiMaggio made the big leagues. Each year they seem to be more and more confusing to "Mr. Crammer." Why be a has been? Why have your friends include you as part of the dark past, a bust in the Hall of Fame for final flunkers? Dust off those books and it's a safe hit for next season.

QUESTION: What is your opinion of the Atlantic Pact ???

HENRY THOMPSON CLINTON, MASS.
I am of the belief that the Atlantic Pact is the first of a series of defensive moves towards total war with Russia!!!

JACK BURKE TROY, NEW YORK
I think that it is a step towards the great understanding of the rights and duties of the western allies but I am dubious of its eventual outcome as to securing a permanent peace, since it seems to be a military pact without considering our adversary Russia. I don't think it is in accordance with the aims of the United Nations.

JOHN FURKEY BURLINGTON, VT.
I am greatly in favor of it although I believe it is hastening war with Russia.

JOE RUTKOWSKI NEW BRITAIN, CONN.
In my opinion, the Atlantic Pact is a kind of "buffer" to counteract aggression on the part of any nation!!

FRANK BECHER DOUGLASTON, N.Y.
It's about time we got firm with Russia since appeasement hasn't gotten us anywhere. I believe that war is inevitable therefore, we should be prepared and one way to do this is through the Atlantic Pact.

JERRY FINN SPRINGFIELD, MASS.
It's the greatest thing since the signing of the peace treaty on the Missouri. I believe that Russia is a little too forward and the Atlantic Pact will counteract this forwardness.

JAMES McMAHON BURLINGTON, VT.
The Atlantic Pact is an extension of the Monroe Doctrine. It may terminate in being a heavier tax burden on the American people.

CHRIS McNALLY WOODSIDE, N.Y.
Since Democracy and Communism can never exist peacefully in the same world, war in the future seems inevitable. The union of the democratic countries, through the Atlantic Pact seems to me one of the best ways to insure democracy's ultimate survival in this struggle !!

VIN MORIN SOUTH BURLINGTON, VT.
It is my belief that world peace is inevitable; two divergent factors cannot fuse!! The Atlantic Pact is merely a sign pointing to our way of thinking -- Russia has already shown her way of thought and if she doesn't get it, there will be War !!

FRANCIS X. McMAHON BRONX, N.Y.
The Atlantic Pact is definitely indicative of the toughening up policy of the United States towards Russia. Though it has many discrepancies, such as the indecisive position of France, this agreement I believe will give greater strength and perseverance to the Marshall Plan. As the economic strength of Europe greatly determines its political life, the Atlantic Pact is the logical step for the developing and maintaining of the political life of the Marshall member nations.

Father Sullivan, by now, is used to finding almost anything as he makes his nightly rounds in St. Pat's with his own private shillelagh . But even Father was surprised to find Ray Kennedy baby sitting with young Tom DePeter one night last week. Dick Jakobowski recorded this historic moment for MICHAELMAN readers.

So there we were down at the Sugar House wondering what we should write for this week's column and looking into our crystal ball. As the head slowly settled the following scene appeared through the golden fluid ... A large group of prominent and prosperous men were gathered in the auditorium of St. Michael's College. It was the alumni reunion of 1970....

Seated on the stage was the Rev. Daniel Jennings, Dean of Studies; Rev. Paul E. Boucher, Dean of Discipline and Alumni President Richard J. Jakobowski. Standing at the Rostrum and uttering words of wisdom was the visiting speaker, Mgr. Daniel Doyle. Seated in the front row were: Robert Flanagan, Public Relations Director; John E. Murphy, Superintendent of Buildings; Paul O. Gravel, Director of Athletics; Ramon de Jesus PhD., head of the language department; Dr. Walter Coon PhD., head of the Sociology department and Dr. James Whittaker PhD., head of the Philosophy department.

Arriving in a large limousine, Mr. Frank Merrigan, President of the C.I.O. stated in his speech to the Human Relations Class that: "I am for the common man and the C.I.O. is right behind me." Driving up from New York in a 1970 Cadillac was Robert Sauer. Stepping out of the car and turning his back on the assembled multitude he opened the rear door for Edward Jaditz, president of the New York Stock Exchange and William O'Hearn. O'Hearn, after being quoted widely as a student, was immediately offered a job at the Exchange where he now is in charge of Stock Market Quotations.

Among the many notables who were in attendance were Robert Digan, the well known authority on goldfish; Real estate tycoon Thomas Sheehan, and Coach Bob Hackett of the N.Y. Yankees.

Reports from Brandon way indicate Prof. Hannigan does a mean sashay in old time dancing. --Pere Paulin has some rare shots of the kids of Miketown, especially those of Charlie Duffy. -- Seems like last year to talk about before vacation, but the report lingers that the Michaelmen did themselves proud putting on that show before the Vermont Legislature. -- Of course, they not only had the solons to entertain, but also the lassies from Trinity to inspire them. -- The gals went along as part of the Mixed Chorale and Polly Pollard to do a solo. -- Charlie Flanagan not only gave 'em "Ol' Man River," and "Because," but also "Blow the Man Down" in real Nantucket style with the complete chorus. -- Bob Sullivan wowed 'em with his "Sabre Dance" on the teeth. Prof. Burke's Gleesters did their best on "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," while Prof. Donoghue wound up the show with some of his humorous folk songs. He was the proudest emcee in the world when the legislators, one and all, rose for Dr. Stoehr's "Alma Mater."

THE LONG JOURNEY HOME. Rides were scarce and hair raising experiences plenty on that long trip home before the vacation. ... Bob Hasson was in a fog somewhere between Portsmouth and Portland. Bill Acton spent the vacation recuperating. Chub Helfrich and John Sciarrino got a good view of the eclipse while they waited in White River. ... Bob Harrington almost had to be paroled in order to finish his trip to Springfield. The Piscione express hustled home some of the Boston Mikemen. The McIsaac express did the same. Tom Sabbagh, another one who enjoyed a stay in White River.

The Guy Lombardo show proved quite popular with the Burlington Michaelmen. According to the newspapers the show committee arranged to get late permission for the UVM coeds. It looks like they forgot to make like arrangements for on-campus Michaelmen.

Question: Why doesn't anyone know Charlie Guill in home town Nashua? Answer: He spends most of his time in Manchester. Do you want a new Packard? Enter the Harrington raffle. Lou Lanoue is back in the social swing. Don Gerety and Jake Shields are NOT back in.

The MICHAELMAN extends its condolences to Prof. Leonard Caners who lost his father earlier this month.

Hardly a day goes by that we don't read Dave Egan's column which appears daily in the Boston Daily Record. Not that we put out a nickel every day for that sheet, but it seems there is always one laying around, and it sure doesn't cost anything to see what the poor-man's Dan Parker has thought up in the previous twenty-four hours.

Granted, first of all, that the old Colonel is a smart and educated man. He holds degrees from both Harvard and Harvard Law, which naturally puts him about two notches above the average man. But at times we think Egan over-estimates his intelligence. Fither that or he under-estimates that of his reading public.

That story from the training camps that the Braves were about to revolt against Manager Billy Southworth was really a pip. He must have been awfully hard up for something to write the day he sent that one up north. And mind you, the editors of his "paper" thought it was so good they put it on page one. It would have been the sport's scoop of this modern era, had there been one iota of truth in it. But here it is about a month later, and the Braves are still playing ball together, under Manager Billy. Probably there was a little dissension on the squad, which is to be expected among a group of high-strung grown men. But that open-revolt stuff that Egan was hollering about sure died a slow-death, which is just what is going to happen to Egan's newspaper career if he comes up with one or two more "scoops" like that one.

HE DOESN'T LIKE CASEY

For some unknown reason Egan can't stand the sight or mention of the new Yankee manager Casey Stengel. The only thing that Casey ever did to Egan, as we see it, was that he never finished in the first division when he piloted the Boston Braves, which makes the Colonel highly indignant because he hails from somewhere around the Beantown. We might mention that the team Casey had couldn't have won the pennant in the Pony League. That makes no difference to the Colonel, whose baseball savvy Casey Stengel could put in his eye-tooth.

The pay-off came last week however, when Egan informed the world that Stengel bought his way into the Yankee manager's job. Egan claims that Casey, being a very rich man, lent the Yankee organization money last year, and in return he was to get Bucky Harris' job. That, we claim, was the pay-off.

The Yankee organization, led by multi-millionaire Dan Topping, needed money last year like Egan needs a hole in the head. He must think that there isn't a Yankee fan in New England, who thinks Casey Stengel isn't going to do okay with a bunch of good ball-players.

The only thing Dave Egan has as far as we are concerned, are gullible readers, half-baked editors and an awful lot of nerve.

THOSE KNIGHTS OF OLD DID OK FOR THEMSELVES

by Bob White

During the war St. Michael's, along with many other small colleges was forced to cut athletics almost entirely. Since then, however, the athletic program has progressed by leaps and bounds.

Perhaps it is because of their relatively obscure position during the War and then their vault into athletic prominence afterwards, that many a student has the impression that the only athletic contest that took place before his arrival consisted of an annual horseshoe pitching tournament behind Old Hall.

Many of the Alumni, if conscious of this attitude, would shake their collective heads as they recalled to mind the many truly great athletes of their day.

They would think of men such as Hugh O'Brien, now Professor of Criminology at Notre Dame, who not only starred on the football and baseball teams, but in 1929 paced St. Mike's to their first win in basketball over UVM and also the Vermont State Championship.

Not content with merely playing the sport Hugh O'Brien also coached the St. Michael's High School Five. He was a pretty fair coach, too, for his team was invited to represent this part of the country at the National Catholic High School Basketball Conference.

Older grads might recall that Father Ralph Linnehan who was known as "Spike" in his younger days because of his gentle manner was an outstanding baseball and basketball player. Then for eleven years he coached teams at St. Mike's that played Catholic University, Boston University, Boston College, Providence, and Holy Cross.

Fr. Linnehan, himself, remembers the day his High School Team was trailing by a small score in an important game. He put in a pinch hitter who slammed a home run and saved the day.

That pinch hitter is now the president of St. Michael's College, the Very Reverend Daniel Lyons.

Many others on the faculty at St. Mike's are former athletes. A partial list would include Fathers Dupont and Sullivan in baseball, Father Tining and Mr. Ganet in hockey, Father Hebert in tennis, and Father Hamel former coach of football.

Father Stankiewicz played both baseball and football. He was a standout end on the last Michaelman team to defeat UVM in football before this past year.

So remember, men, that 10 years hence when St. Michael's is known as the Notre Dame of the East, you may want it remembered that you once played a pretty fair game of ball yourself.

New Field In Use Soon---Doc Hopes

St. Michael's new athletic field, under construction for close to three years will finally be inaugurated this week ... maybe.

Right at present the use or non-use of the field is completely in the lap of the gods and the people who repair steamrollers.

The steamroller which was to put the field in shape is still being put in shape itself in a shop in Philadelphia.

If the new field is not ready by next Tuesday, the Norwich game, scheduled for that date, will have to be played on the old field opposite Austin Hall.

Home games are also listed for May 8, 9, 14, 16, and 25.

Doc Jacobs hopes the field will be ready for use in time for at least some of these games.

Knights Lose In First Two

SMC Edged At AIC, Buried At Amherst

by TONY CAULEY

The Purple Knight Nine opened their 1949 baseball slate by taking a three day whirl of the Bay State, tangling with the Aces of American International College on the 22nd, and Amherst the following day. The Knights were shaded by the Aces in a thriller 6-5, and pounded by a very clever outfit representing Amherst 12-1.

Against A.I.C. the Knights hopped off to a two run lead in the first inning on two bases on balls, a ringing single to center by Don Naples and a fielder's choice. The Aces got one of the runs back in its half of the inning when Dick Czarnik singled home Turner. After each team picked up a single marker in the third, the Aces put across their game winning rally.

A.I.C.'S CINCHER

Jackie Hurst hit a home run over the center fielder's head. King walked and Gibby pushed out a perfect bunt which went for a hit. Turner flied out but Zanetti kept the rally alive with a single and Beaudoin shot a double down the third-base line. The Knights managed to come up with single markers in the fifth and seventh and just missed deadlocking the count in the ninth when Turner's good throw cut down Fleming at the plate.

AMHERST RUNS WILD

The following day the Knights came apart at the seams and fell before a 12 hit Amherst barrage, 12-1. Jim O'Donnell started this one but was forced to leave in the second inning when he twisted his ankle going after a bunt. Jim Devaney took over the pitching chores, and did a commendable job, despite ragged support.

Amherst's pitching was well handled by Dunbar, who also led the opposition in hitting with three clean base-knocks. Amherst looked very good. It has a well balanced squad, both in the field and at the plate.

Three Tough Tilts Listed For Purple

by Ray Howland

This weekend the Purple nine of St. Michael's College face three assignments in a row as they invade New Hampshire, Boston College, and Williams College.

For New Hampshire it will be their opener, while B.C., and Williams have already thrown out the first ball.

Boston College, one of the top teams in New England last year, finishing runner-up to Yale, has lost only two men from that 1948 squad.

Outstanding for the Boston Boys are the keystone combination of Co-captains Johnny Yurewicz and Johnny Brosnahan, plus footballer Ed Clasby at the hot corner and Eddie Collins at first.

Patrolling the outer gardens are hard hitters Bob Fitzgerald, Bill Ryan and Bill Mulloy. On the mound B.C. has veterans Steve Stuka, George Levinson, Bob Quirk, Ed Walsh and Ted Quinn.

Williams, which has already quite a few games under its belt, doesn't seem as up to par as in '48, but can always be counted on for a dangerous lineup.

Fresh Air Courts For Spring Sports

Those young men whose fancy, in the spring, turns to thoughts of basketball, volley ball and badminton will be able to play till their heart's content this spring.

While the students were home on the vacation the "ground crew" was busy setting up facilities for these sports.

Basketball courts have been put up next to St. Edmunds and opposite Austin Hall. A volley ball court and a badminton court have also been set up next to St. Edmunds.

Also during the vacation softball courts were laid out on the Observatory and practice football field.

Basketballs, volley balls and badminton rackets and shuttlecocks are being supplied by the school. These can be picked up in the information office on the first floor of Old Hall.

According to Father Stankiewicz, who has been arranging this program, any students may use the courts and equipment. However, Fr. Stankiewicz asked the students to "return the equipment as soon as they finish with it so the next fellow will have a chance."

Students have also been requested not to use the area between St. John's and the St. Joseph's hall. This will soon be seeded and, according to Father Stankiewicz, "even if there isn't grass there are still windows."

NFCCS Conference

It was emphasized that there was nothing personal against the speakers but the objection was only to what might be said.

There was a great deal of discussion on the matter among the students present. It was brought out that the talks will be so short and factual that the danger of personal injection will be slight. Also, the students who are to speak have been interested in for some time, and are up on American foreign policy, while, as a whole, student knowledge on the policy is limited. The group seeking to have the talks read agreed on this latter point.

Delegates further pointed out that if the speeches are rejected on so late a date as after the recess, it would be difficult to properly prepare new talks.

SPEECHES GIVEN TO CARR

A resolution was introduced which proposed that both groups choose several faculty members together to read the speeches and decide how detrimental they are to St. Michael's. It was voted down.

After further discussion, a resolution was passed by a near unanimous vote which read: " that the papers to be read at the Regional Congress at Boston be submitted to the campus moderator of the NFCCS, Mr. Carr, according to normal procedure and that if the moderator deems it necessary, he take further action; specifically, consultation with the Rev. President Father Lyons.

Both groups were satisfied that this was the best and only way to reach an agreement. All thanked each other for the cooperation shown. In closing the session chairman Clem Ferris expressed the hope that constructive interest will continue to be shown by all students.

pre-veterinary programs and in the Math. major program and the Classics program.

Pre-med, pre-dental and pre-veterinary students will become Biology majors under the new policy.

The Math. major program will now lead to an AB instead of a BS degree. This means that the Math. majors can drop their chem. requirements.

The Classics program, under the new policy will now be known as the Latin program.

The majority of the changes in the new catalogue are listed on pages 28 and 29 and on pages 34 through 39. All students are entitled to one copy of the catalogue.

Veterans' Wives Have Active Club

Never underestimate the power of a woman!

Seventy-three of them have formed the newest and probably the most influential club around the campus. This is the Veteran's Wives Club.

The club which was organized in February, holds monthly meetings at which the wives can get acquainted and discuss the care and feedingoof babies and husbands.

At these meetings there is usually a lecture or a movie on some subject of interest to the group.

Past meetings of the group have seen Father Paulin's pictures of campus activities; heard Mrs. Witham speak on: "It's harder to be a good wife than a good mother;" seen a movie by the Red Cross on infant care and heard a lecture on interior decorating by Mrs. Paul O'Halloran.

Before the end of the school year the group intends to put on a dance.

Officers of the club are: Chairlady, Mrs. Edward Kosicki; Secretary, Mrs. John Corbett; Treasurer, Mrs. Henry J. Donegan.

Chem. Club Busy With Trips, Talks

by BILL LIBERATOR

The Chemistry Club's Constitution was read at this year's first meeting earlier this month. A general discussion period followed Jim Early's report " Industrial Employment Opportunities for Chemists." The club's moderator is Prof. Kohler and Dan Berry and Leo Contois have been nominated for President.

The first Sunday of the month the club went on its annual Maple Sugar Trip to Colchester. There the members saw the various stages of maple sugar processing.

Returning to the Lab, the members boiled down some maple syrup into sugar.

At the next meeting this Wednesday, the Constitution will be ratified. Also, a president will be elected and the other officers nominated.

This week the club's discussion will center about " Dye Demonstrations" by Bernard Smith.

Corcoran is Prexy Of Biology Club

The recently organized Biology Club has elected its officers and appointed committees to study the further organization of the society.

At its meeting, April 6, the club, which meets every other Wednesday, elected James C. Corcoran, president; Leo Denault, vice-president; and Peter A. Troy, secretary.

At every meeting of the club, members present talks discussing articles which appeared in recent scientific literature.

Members who spoke at the April 6, meeting were: Corcoran, who discussed the " Natural Hormone effect on the reproductive tract of the opossum"; Leo Denault, " Stimulation of Virus on Bacteria by Tryptophane"; and Robert W. O'Brien with an illustrated lecture on "Electronic Microscopic Structure of Human Skin."

Club meetings are open to all students interested in hearing such discussions. The next meeting will be this Wednesday.

Campion Players To Pinch Hit

Due to the close of the three local colleges for the Easter Holidays, and the fact that the Pen & Mike Club will be in Boston on April 30th to conduct the NFCCS Radio Panel, the Campion Players of Burlington have conducted the regular Sunday broadcast of " Catholic Information" for the past two weeks and will also take over next week's program.

Their most recent program was on April 24th, when they presented a dramatization of " Even Unto the Consummation." The play received many favorable comments.

This Sunday, May 1st, they will present a special broadcast to usher in the month of our Blessed Mother. It will consist of poems and hymns dedicated to Mary.

The Campion Players are under the direction of Miss Mary Polworth of Burlington.

Miss Polworth is remembered vividly for her work in " Kingdom of the Blind" presented by the Knights and Knaves of St. Michael's College and in " Pilate's Daughter" given in Burlington.

Mr. Gerald Kelly, head of the History Department at Nazareth College and a former Professor of English at St. Michael's has written " The Life of Mother Hieronymo," published by the Christopher Press of Rochester.

The work which was originally an essay was expanded into pamphlet form by Mr. Kelly after arousing much interest and admiration.

Frosh Debate Team Away At Dartmouth

The afternoon of April 29, and the morning of April 30, will be the time of the big battle. Hanover, New Hampshire, home of Dartmouth College will be the place. The occasion will be the Frosh debating tournament.

Dartmouth, Vermont and several other colleges and universities will compete, along with St. Michael's in the tournament.

Representing the Winooski Park institution will be the affirmative team of Joseph O'Connell of East Haven, Conn., and William Hindle of South Hadley Falls, Mass.

On the negative side are John Dursi, Larchmont, N.Y., and Thomas Flanagan, Springfield, Mass.

Mr. Edward Murphy, Newman Debate Moderator will head the Mikemen delegation.

The topic under discussion is: " Resolved that the United Nations' organization should be modified into a Federal World Government."

Earlier this spring Vermont, Dartmouth and St. Michael's participated in a round robin tournament in the Science Hall. At that time the resolution read: " Resolved that a Federal World Government should be established."
